California Ranch News

A man's most productive work is done above his ears.

Garden slugs and snails are beginning to make their appearance.

Southern California school gardens are models for schools of the country.

The man who is willing to do a piece of work already has it half done.

Sixteen southern California high schools entered judging teams at the National Orange show.

Instead of using a cherry to brighten a fruit salad or dessert, try a bit of cranberry sauce or jelly.

Milk is about 87 per cent of water, which means that the cows should have plenty of clean, fresh water.

The formal and official opening of the Henshaw dam irrigation project took place February 28, at Vista, San Diego county.

Sweet potatoes are also expected to be planted rather extensively this season, not only in the Woodville district but throughout Tulare county.

Rapid advancement of the bee industry which has already gained a firm foothold in Sutter county is expected by the bee men of the Sacramento valley.

Sanitary conditions on more than a hundred farms in Kings county are as good and up-to-date as they are in the county, says County Farm Adviser Wallace Sullivan.

Soil reclamation experiments which will be extended over a period of two years were started in March on eight plots of a quarter-acre each in Hemet valley, Riverside county.

Over 100 men from California, Oregon, Washington, Montana and Japan were in attendance at the dairy short course which was brought to a close at the college of agriculture at Davis.

Diversification for the fruit grower was the chief topic discussed at a recent meeting of the pear growers of the Little Rock, Palmdale and South Antelope valley districts held at Little Rock, recently.

A lease taken by J. H. Hayworth, large property owner of Riverside county, on the old D. T. Curtis ranch, six miles southwest of Dinuba, with option to buy, means more to the Dinuba citizens than just another land transfer. For Hayworth plans to start a dairy farm in this district.

The heaviest bloom of almond blossoms ever put out by the trees at Arbuckle, Colusa county, is to be seen this year. Many bee men are taking their bees to this place, as the honey from these blossoms makes a very fine commercial variety. Growers are now practically assured of a very fine crop of almonds.

Prune and pear growers in Sonoma county are warned to be on the lookout for thrip as these bud-boring insects usually appear at this time of the year, according to H. A. Weinland, county farm advisor. Weinland, pointed out that these insects can usually be eradicated before they spread over a large area.

An active campaign against puncture vine will be required to save farmers in California from great losses in depreciation of hay and other crops, according to experts who met at a recent conference in Bakersfield. Cotton fields infested with this weed pest, it is said, require an extra man to each forty acres to eradicate the weeds.

With one large poultry farm established in the Pentz district, near Oroville, Butte county and owned by A. D. Crawford, a second venture of like nature, but contemplated for larger proportions, is being launched. The second poultry farm is being established on the W. P. Hammon ranch, where plans are under way for installing 8,000 hens.

Investigations by H. P. Stabler, Yuba City, reveal that Sutter county peach growers produced and marketed 86,714 tons of cling peaches in 1925. This is 16,000 tons greater than the production in 1922, which was the previous record, and it is nearly 80,000 tons greater than the output of 1915.

California ranks second in percentage of dairy cows in cow testing associations, with 55,000 cows being tested for butterfat each month in thirty-nine associations.

Announcement is made in Marysville Yuba county, by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company that $250,000 will be spent in extensions and improvements in the territory between Nicolaus and Chico, with Marysville as the working center. This sum is in addition to $50,000 now being spent in the city limits of Marysville on improvements.

SUPT. WOOD ON SCHOOL ELECTION

In a communication addressed to school officials throughout the state, Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction, gives the following advice to the voters concerning the coming school election:

A very difficult situation has arisen in reference to the annual school trustees election. A technical point in reference to registration has been raised and the Attorney General has ruled that under the law, only those electors who have registered since January 1, 1926, and at least 30 days before the election are legally qualified to vote. I have gone over the Attorney General's opinion very carefully and agree with him in every partcular. However, several district attorneys have given contrary opinions, thus adding to the confusion. Under the circumstances, I fell that this office should make a statement for the guidance of officials and election officers.

It was clearly not the desire of the Legislature to disfranchise citizens for technical reasons. The Legislature felt at the time Section 1593 of the Political Code was amended some years ago, that it had made the old register the basis for the March school election. For several years, the schools have held their elections on the assumption that the old register should be used. My advice is that school election officers accept all unchallenged votes where the voter states he is a qualified elector of the county registered at least 30 days before the election. In case the vote is challenged, it can not be accepted unless the person offering to vote takes the oath provided in Section 1600 of the Political Code.

Steps will be taken at the next session of the Legislature to remove all duobt concerning the qualifications of electors at school elections.

INITIATES BANQUETED

The Grange banquet to the incoming class of fourteen new members, was given at 6:30 Tuesday evening, about 120 members being present. The drill team put on the work of the third and fourth degrees in most excellent style. Several visitors from neighboring granges were present including past state master E. I. Petitt who gave a short talk on grange work. E. K. Clendening, State Organizer, also spoke on grange work and kindred subjects.

The attendance contest seems to be awakening considerable interest. For some time the "golds" have been ahead, but Tuesday night the "reds" showed up strong and took the lead. Only about one half of the total membership were out, so there is an opportunity for considerable strife between now and the close of the contest, to see which side will give the banquet. If both sides get earnestly at work the grange will need a larger hall to meet in very soon.

Reports of committees were mostly deferred until next meeting as nothing of special importance came up.

The next meeting will be on the 13th of April and will open at 8 o'clock p. m .for the summer season instead of 7:30 as heretofore.

The floral decorations of hall and banquet room were beautiful flowers in great variety being massed at the bases of the officers' stations.

CONTEST ORATORS TO BERKELEY

The annual Shakespearean Declamatory contest was held Wednesday at the high school and the decisions were awarded to Ruth Matteson and Robert Beatty.

These two will go to Berkeley Saturday, where the preliminaries will be held in the morning in some of the halls and the finals in the afternoon in the Greek Theater.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY "SHERWOOD" PROVES A MOST SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION

One of the biggest and judged by many as one of the best productions ever staged by the local high school was "Sherwood" a story of Robin Hood by the senior class. As always they played to a packed house of most enthusiastic admirers.

The performance showed the effects of a great deal of efficient coaching and study as there was very little need of prompting during the scenes. Each player did his or her part well, the only criticism being made that some spoke hardly loud enough. Many complimentary remarks were made of Lilian Gard's acting and distinct enunciation. She made a most cunning villainess.

Patricia Hunter was a very charming Marian winning her auditors as well as the men of that famous band. As solists, Carl Nelson, Richard Shelley, Brek Reed and Margaret Pardee are deserving of special mention as well as for their good work in the play. Arthur Sunquist, Tilden Tremper and Frank Pisano were built for their parts according to tradition. Harold Cramer in his double role filled the places very creditably. The fairies lead by Mary Maxon and Edward Merrill aided by Winifred Powell added a touch to the play that was very much enjoyed. Robert Beatty proved a real boastful usurper.

The dances of the fairies and Maskers was an enjoyable variety.

Both performers and coaches deserve highest praise for the remarkable performance. The scenery was made at the school shop and added much to the artistic settings as planned by Miss Johnson and W. E. Whitney.

Musical numbers by the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Halamick and saxaphone solos by Ray Thomas were greatly appreciated. The cast and program follows.

THE CANTATA OF "OUT OF WEST" TO BE FEATURED

Music will hold the center of the stage both days. At first it was planned to put a prominent speaker on the program, but after it considered the quality of the musical program, the committee concluded a speaker would be unnecessary.

The festival will be celebrated in the picturesque amphitheater at the left of the Saratoga road, just east of the Saratoga Inn, formed by the embankment along which runs the highway, and the tree-fringed creek to the northwest. Although open to the sky, and capable of accommodating thousands, it has unusually good accoustic properties.

The performance of the San Francisco symphony orchestra, led by Alfred Hertz, will be the feature of Saturday's program; and of Earl Towner's festival cantata, "Out of the West," of Sunday's. Numbers from "The Promise of Spring," Towner's 1925 festival cantata, will also be sung Saturday. Allan Wilson, popular Scottish tenor, will sing the tenor part of the cantata.

The Richards club, a local male chorus with a splendid reputation, will be added to Sunday's program. "Out of the West" will also be given Sunday. The San Francisco symphony orchestra will not be heard on Sunday, as it performs in San Francisco each Sunday of the year.

The chorus of 200 will be seated on a large platform facing the highway side of the ampitheater, backed by the trees along the creek. Comfortable board seats on the flat before the stage and the hillside are provided.

Here is the program for both days. Clip it out and take it with you.

AN EDITORIAL FOR EASTER

During the 19th Century there were only two Easter Days on April 4th, the years being 1847 and 1858. In the 20th Century Easter falls on April 4 in the years 1915, 1926 and 1999.

It is interesting to know these facts, but does the knowledge of them contribute anything to the spiritual values of this Holy Day? Unfortunately there are some people who do not lend themselves either to the consecration or the celebration of the days set apart for increased spiritual devotion or patriotic fervor as the case may be. Does April 4 this year mean EASTER, in all its symbolic purity, or just "another Sunday?"

We may even lay aside all questions that have been raised as to the accuracy of calculation of the exact date of the anniversary of the Resurrection, and still find consolation in the recoginzed commemoration of an event sanctioned and sanctified throughout all Christendom.

We may admit the innocence of the seasonable custom of bedecking ourselves in gaudy wrappings at Eastertime, and yet keep in mind the plain and simple raiment of Him who admonished to "take no thought what ye shall put on."

We may find satisfaction in sumptuous dinners, coddling of children and gaiety of decoration, and still give thought to the "newness of life" that arose from the tomb of greatest sacrifice since the world began.

Easter, in its freshness and glory, is the great companion-day to Christmas. Its expression is purity, symbolized by the lily. It is the world's ushering in of spring, of newness of hope for higher Christian idealism. Anti-Christian sentiment can not but soften in its favor. Without Easter Day the world would have to count off one great mark in the moral and religious scale of human betterment.

IMPARTIAL ENFORCEMENT THE ISSUE

"If marine officers and rich men can have their cocktails, why does the poor man who takes or serves a drink have to go to jail?" This question is now being asked, but the answer it tries to suggest has little weight. Partiality in enforcement tends to weaken Prohibition as a fact, but is no argument against it as an institution.

In any system of regulation we find as a rule that the "higher ups" escape punishment oftener than their less fortunate brethern. The issue thus rendered is not only strict enforcement of Prohibition but impartial enforcement if we are to escape the impending crisis of modification or repeal.

NECESSITY THE MOTHER OF GOOD ROADS

Illinois now leads all other states in its 5000 miles of permanent type paved roads; and anyone who ever tried to drive through the soft soil or sticky clay of that state in the old days know how badly the paved highways were needed. Truly, no section of the country can boast of absolute immunity from rescue by chains or mule teams at times when the weather man does his stuff. But all hail to Illinois! There is system to its system.

UP JUMPS DEMPSEY

In the eyes of sportsmen and lovers of the manly art of thump and be thumped, Jack Dempsey may yet redeem himself. His lack of performance in several ways in the recent past caused the public to believe that he was a sport slacker. But now he has broken all precedent by putting up a cool quarter of a million to promote his own fight with Harry Wills on Labor Day. According to his promoter, the champion will fight solely on a percentage basis and without guarantee. Though he expects to clear a million, even those who would not care to see the match must admit that Jack has some sporting blood left, which will tell, even among fighters.

SCRIPPS WAS CONSISTENT

Nearly three years before his death, Edward W. Scripps, one of the great figures in American journalism, gave orders that in the event of his passing his body be buried in the sea without communicating with his relatives. Why not? Scripps loved the sea, and spent a greater portion of his retired life in cruising its waters. Many people dislike the idea of a watery grave because it can not afterwards be identified. Yet whatever this or any other man may have accomplished will be marked by the records of achievement left, not by a shallow tomb of engraving on stone.

An early variety of navel oranges, ripening two weeks earlier than the Washington navel, is displayed at Oroville, Butte county. The orange is more oval and of darker hue than the Washington navel and is said to be luscious to the taste.

Sponsored by the Pomona Chamber of Commerce, Pomona valley dairy and poultry committees are taking final steps toward the establishment of a state-wide annual institute for California poultrymen at which matters of importance to the industry may be intelligently discussed, as is the case at institutes held in connection with the citrus and other agricultural and animal industries.

Work of enlarging the Monte Rio community packing house between Auburn and Newcastle, Placer county, has commenced and the completed plant will be 132 by 50 feet. An additional grader will be installed and more packers will be employed.

Prevent Window Frost

The formation of frost on windows can be reduced materially by rubbing the inside of the glass with a solution of glycerin and alcohol. The solution is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of glycerin in half a pint of alcohol. Apply the mixture to the glass with a clean rag.

Mrs. Carlyle's L

Emory R. Buckner said in New York the other day:

"If prohibition were the failure that the opponents claim it is, we prohibitionists would feel like the Annandale farmer that Jane Welsh Carlyle tells about in her inimitable letters.

"It was raining, and Mrs. Carlyle wrote:

"'Rain! Rain! Rain! Oh, Lord, this is too ridiculous,' as the Annandale farmer exclaimed, starting to his feet when it began pouring, in the midst of his prayer for a dry hay time."

Refrigerator Car Iced

A newly devised elevated ice body for motor trucks, used in icing railroad refrigerator cars has greatly simplified that operation. Under the old system of icing, where flat-bodied trucks were used, three men placed two tons of ice in refrigerator compartments of a single car in 35 minutes. The new elevating body requires the services of two men and does the same work in eight minutes, thus effecting a saving of 27 minutes.

$65 FOR CHARITY

The Pundita Circle met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. J. Pardee.

A dramatic program was given by Mrs. M. E. Purmort, who read a condensed version of "The Enemy," and Mrs. H. W. Williams who read from the comedy, "Cradle Snatchers."

Miss Margaret Pardee, accompanied by Miss Patricia Hunter, favored the company with songs.

The reports from the charity Bazaar held at Mrs. James Turner's recently, netted $65.00. The usual pleasant social hour and refreshments were served.

MARRIED AT CAMPBELL

Horace Lightburn and Zelda Lamoreaux of Oakland were married at the Methodist church by the Rev. F. C. Farr Friday, March 19th, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baldwin, friends of the contracting parties.

Town Tales Tersely Told

Remember your friends with an Easter Card. Smith's has a large assortment.

Stanford students have been at home this week enjoying a vacation between semesters.

Walter Farr who is studying medics at Leland Stanford in San Francisco came home Wednesday for a short vacation.

Miss Mollie Wilcox of New Berlin, Ill., arrived Wednesday from Los Angeles and is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jones.

Campbell Union schools will have their spring vacation next week, which will permit of the observance of Good Friday.

Beverly Davis who has been attending Art school in Berkeley is returning this week and will resume his position in L. S. Miller's store, and continue his art studies at night schools in San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, who have been visiting their relatives, the A. A. Purmort's left Wednesday for a two weeks stay at Burbank, after which they will return to their home at Anoka, Minn.

Horace Lea has announced his candidacy for the office of Fire Commissioner. Horace has always been an active and enthusiastic fireman and if elected, will doubtless make a good commissioner.

Miss Ruby Howes physical education instructor at the high school was hit on the cheek by a baseball in a game with the girls. Her face was badly bruised and her glasses broken, but no lasting injury resulted.

Miss Elva Mattos and Miss Olive Lewis of Campbell have been chosen by Miss Matilda Nunes to act as her maids of honor for the annual fiesta of the S. E. S. supreme council which will be held in Santa Clara June 5 and 6.

The baseball team of the C. U. H. S. will play the Palo Alto High team at that city on Saturday. There was a five inning practice game Tuesday with Montezuma, which resulted in the uncomplimentary score of 10 to 9, the one point in Campbell's favor.

Mrs. Cora Marshal, who has been employed in Millers Store has sold her property on Winchester Road between Sunnyside and Kennedy Avenues and will move to San Jose next week. She will have charge of a home in San Jose for girls attending State Tecahers' College.

The wonderful beds of bulbs, many in full bloom in the gardens of Gordon Ainsley on North Second Street are receiving the highest praises. The wonderful daffodils which have glorified the Post Office window this week are a sample of the marvelous blooms he is producing. His hyacinths and tulips are equally gorgeous.

The Masonic Grand Lodge, of Calif., has set aside the week from April 26th, to May 1st as Masonic Public Educational Week and the local committee from Charity Lodge No. 362 is planning a meeting on Monday evening, April 26th, at the grammar school. There will be a good speaker and good music and the public is asked to remember the date and to come.

MORELAND GOODWILL

The Moreland Goodwill Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. P. Bean, March 17th. After the regular opening program and reading of communications, two members were elected for board members for a term of two years. Mrs. Zettle was reelected and Mrs. Leroy Anderson was chosen to succeed Mrs. Bean.

Mrs. Owen gave an instructive paper upon "Pearl Fishing of Australia"

A social hour followed in which the hostess served her usual hot rolls.

Adjourend to meet March 31st with Miss L. M. Cassidy of Phelps Ave.

P T A ENTERTAINS NEIGHBOR CLUBS

The P. T. A. of the Campbell Union Grammar School will be hostesses to the Moreland and Campbell High School P. T. A.'s on Tuesday, April 6th. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the grammar school assembly at 2:30 p. m.

The subject for the afternoon will be "Child Hygiene." Pupils from the High First Grade, Mrs. Wilson instructor will give a health play, nad Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Brancato, the Dental Hygienist of the county will speak.

Mothers of pupils and of children of pre school age are urged to be present and profit by these helps in the care of children's health.

MOORE SHOE STORE

The shoe shop of James A. Moore underwent a metamorphosis last week and when he opened for business Monday the store was doubled in size. An archway had been cut into the room behind, new shelving arranged and a general expansion had taken place. Mr. Moore plans to carry a stock of men's and boy's shoes and an assortment of polishes and other accessories, and will add other lines as demand increases.

We are all glad to see Campbell's business houses grow and prosper and extend good wishes for continued success.

Mrs. R. Y. Maxon and Miss Mary Candee, who has made Campbell her home at times, are extended the sympathy of their friends in the death of their brother Frederick Candee, which occurred in Berkeley last week. Services were held Friday in the Chapel at Oak Hill cemetery.

M. J. Bohnett is enpoying a few days vacation at his home. On April 1st, he will take a position with the Bank of San Jose.

SCHOOL NOTES

The boys team of baseball had a game Tuesday, March 16th, with the 130 lb team of the high school, the score being 8 to 9 in the grammar schools favor.

Monday, March 22, the team played Hester at the Hester school with a score of 2 to 3 in Hester's favor. This was a very good game. Miss Naylor and Mis Merriman took the boys over in their machines. Elbur Clark of the High School is coaching the team after school.

Mr. Saveker, Scoutmaster, is going to take the local scout troop to Saratoga for an over night hike on Blossom Day.

The upper grades are busy this week with the county exams. These will be finished Friday and Easter vacation for a week starts then.

The lower grades are having Easter egg parties with egg hunts etc., today.

Mr. Pope has been sick for the last two weeks and Mr. Abbott has ben driving the San Tomas bus in the morning and afternoon.

April 15th has been set aside for a band concert at the school.

The grammar school is working on two operettas, "The Toreador" by the upper grades and "Picnic Day in the Woods" by the primary grades to be given the last of April.

Miss Farman, the domestic science teacher, had the misfortune to have a bad fire at her home in San Jose this week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Abbott invited the teachers of the grammar school to an Easter party at their new home, Thursday evening, March 25th. It was another of those very pleasant get-together affairs which the teachers have had so often. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott certainly know how to entertain and the teachers know how to enjoy themselves and a delightful time was had.

Last Friday venenig, Mrs. I. R. Abbot entertained the members of her lodge Chapter D. N., P. E. O. Sisterhood, at her home on Alice Way at a six o'clock dinner. Mrs. Abbott is a wonderful hostess and those belonging to her chapter consider themselves very fortunate. After the dinner theg uests went over to see the High School play "Sherwood."

Ellis De Selle this week underwent an operation for tonsils and adenoids.

The A. B. Townsend family enjoyed a very delightful experience Sunday when they went up to San Francisco to visit friends who were on board the steamer Empress of Scotland, which is touring the world. They had the privilege of inspecting the vessel, which is one of the large Atlantic liners of the type that do not visit theis coast except upon such occasions as this round the world trip.

News of Interest to All

With complete outfits of new clothing including overcoats supplied by the Salvation Army, fourteen Japanese sailors returned to Japan on March 11, on the S. S. Java Arrow, which picked them up January 18 from the drifting Daishin Maru No. 3. Without water for three days and with no food for fifteen days but rats caught by the ship's cat, the sailors were temporarily blind and had to be carried from their helpless ship when rescued. Upon arrival in San Francisco, they were met by Captain Kobayashi of the Japanese Division of the Salvation Army, cared for, reclothed, given a sight seeing trip through the city a luncheon at a hotel, warm overcoats for the home voyage and $2.00 each for personal needs. Upon their return to Japan the sailors will be aided by the Japanese government.

Ernest E. Williams of San Jose and Richard M. Lyman, Jr., of Oakland were appointed recently as assistants to United States Attorney George J. Hatfield. They take the places made vacant by the resignation of Thomas J. Riordan and George F. Snyder. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Stanford University where he obtained degrees of A. B. in 1917 and J. B. in 1920. He will handle prohibition cases for the government. Richard M. Lyman, Jr., graduated from the University of California, receiving degrees in 1915 and 1917. He was assemblyman from Alameda county in 1923. He has been assigned to customs work.

The State Department of Agriculture employs one of the few women sealers of weights and measures in the United States. Mrs. May E. Johnston has been sealer of weights and measures in Humboldt county for twelve years. She recently completed a survey of the county creameries and tested the weights of over 4,000 cartons of butter and all creamery scales. A few years ago a woman qualified as deputy horticultural commissioner in Fresno county, and another was a squirrel inspector in Kings county.

A prominent San Francisco real estate man announced recently he would open a fish restaurant in San Francisco soon in which each patron will be required to "catch his own." He explained that the restaurant would be fitted with large glass tanks bountifully stocked with fish, and that as the would-be diners land their finny entrees, the cook will take them off the hook and rush them to the frying pan or broilers, to be served to the lucky anglers when desired.

Capacity of the Pacific Packing company plant at Oakdale, Stanislaus county, is to be increased 50 per cent by the addition of one complete unit. Not only is the company to increase its capacity but it is to greatly broaden its activities to handle new fruits. A new building, 32x140 feet will be built and equipped with the most modern machinery in the way of syrupers, pitters, slicers, packing tables and everything that goes to make up a modern cannery.

What is believed by William Anwyl Jones of Fairoaks, Sacramento county to be a flock of wild or passenger pigeons making a home in his eucalyptus grove not far from his home. The flock has twenty-five or thirty birds in its make up and corresponds to the general description of the wild or passenger pigeon so numerous thirty or forty years ago, when from the Gulf to the extreme northern latitudes they were very common, but suddenly disappeared.

An American flag which is said to be the first ever raised in California has been offered to the state as an historical relic by Bert H. Stambaugh. Stambaugh says the flag is thought to have been brought around the Horn by members of a little known expedition which sailed from the Atlantic coast shortly after the Revolutionary war.

More than half the voters in Placer county have already registered. County Clerk A. S. Fleming, of Auburn says the total is 4,909 to date. Republicans have a big lead in the county with 3,190 claiming membership. There are 1,425 Democrats; sixty Socialists; fifty-four Prohibitionists and 180 persons who decline to state.

A committee of fifty citizens of Flournoy, Paskenta and Corning, Tehama county met at Flournoy and plans were made for leasing some 20,000 acres of land to an oil company of southern California, for a period of ten years, the work of development to be commenced within two years from now.

An official protest has been lodged with the Waterford, Stanislaus county, chamber of commerce against gold dredging in the Tuolumne river. Silt is being constantly thrown up and will cause water plants and weeds to grow, making the river a marsh and bog instead of a clear river.

The state highway commission met in San Francisco March 17, to consider road reconstruction in the San Joaquin valley.

The Graton community club of Sebastopol, Sonoma county has set the date for the annual wildflower show April 7.

Contractors who have the contract to construct the tunnels for the Bucks Ranch power project of the Feater River Power company near Oroville, Butte county are rushing work of camp establishment in the Grizzly Creek district. Snow is now nine feet deep at Letterbox.

Anthony Milne of Scott Bar, Siskiyou county, is the oldest man in Siskiyou. He reached the rare old age of 94 years on March 16. Be temperate; be happy; be diligent; be an early riser and as early to bed and the age of a century is not so old, says Milne.

The Sacramento Valley Cotton Gin company, at Oakdale, Stanislaus county, has been completing a belated run on cotton, cleaning up all the cotton that was not ginned earlier in the season. The final run is being made on low grade cotton or "snaps" as it is called. T. K. Orvick, manager, said that farmers are still bringing in cotton, and that one still has about fifty bales to deliver. Originally it was not intended to get the gin ready to handle this season's crop, but the machinery was rushed here from the south and the bulk of the cotton grown on 1,000 acres this year was ginned here.

B. H. Cocheron, Petaluma, state leader of the agricultural extension service and one of the foremost authorities on agriculture in the United States, declared in a talk at the meeting of the Sonoma county farm bureau that the demand for crops now raised in this part of the state is on the increase throughout the world, thus indicating a better market, better prices and showing an increased production. Record breaking crops were predicted this year in Sonoma county.

The Kern county farm bureau has asked the state director of agriculture for the establishment of a specific grade of packed table grapes. It is the desire of the farm bureau fresh fruit committee to create a higher grade of all varieties of table grapes so that producers of fancy varieties may be able to market in a class separate from the average run which may barely meet the minimum requirements of the Standardization Act.

Be Happy Today

BY O. LAWRENCE HAWTHORNE

'Tain't alone the daily pleasures
That makes livin' wo'th the while.
'Tain't jus' fun that makes us happy
An' shows people how to smile.
No, folks wouldn't like the sunshine
Half so much without some rain,
An' we prize good fortune better
If we've had a share o' pain.

It's the little disappointments—
Yes, an' greater problems, too—
That we all must learn is helpful
Looks to me like when folks do
What they know is right, an' frien'ly
To somebuddy else, they find
That the day has brought 'em gladness
An' they leave its cares behind.

Mrs. Cowles' Letter Continued

My Scouts are the best yet. "Pathfinders" we call ourselves. Together we are seeking to find the Paths which lead to God. There are seventeen big boys in my Umzumbe Pathfinder Club. Most of the boys are in the Fifth or Sixth Standard and will graduate from our Staion School in December and pass on to our Normal training school at Adams. We meet Friday evenings, from 6 p. m. until 10 p. m. or after. Chess checkers, krokinole and table croquet are the popular games. My krokinole board, bought also with gift money, as a tremendous asset. The boys love it. After games, Devotions, then a business session, followed by First Aid, Knot tying, Nature talk, Debate or Music. The response is wonderful. Best of all, the boys have voted to compete for Merit badges for Church and Sunday School attendance. You should see us studying Paul together just after Church on Sundays. I am sure you would all envy me my bright wide awake class.

According to the Y. M. C. A. "Christian Citizenship Program," we are taking the square for our Chart and Luke 2:52 for our Motto. We are trying to build up the four square life and to walk in the "Jesus Way," but the boys are just beginning, and we know they have a long way to go before they will even understand how much it means to truly walk in this new way upon which they have started. We hope to have Isaac come for a special meeting soon, and that well be Decision day for my Pathfinders.

With Gift money, I was able to have my Club room whitwashed and painted, something I have never felt I could afford before. It is fine to hold our meetings in this clean, freshened-up room.

I have taken a poor cripple and her little brandchild to live with me, and it was fine also to have their room all white-washed and painted. tI was never so grand before! Nomambotwe, the cripple, is one of our veterans. There are few in this Mission who have converted as many to Christ as this woman has. It is truly a privilege to lift her off from the floor of her hut, and put her into a clean and decent bed. There she shall stay until she dies, that is, if I outlive her! You helped me to do this also, Friends. You cannot know how much it means to us to feel your prayers and support back of us.

Mr. Cowles has been over his head in work ever since we struck Umzumbe. It semed quite natural to step into a Court case the very first thing on reaching here. Mr. Cowles now has three on hand, so ther is quite a lively correspondence between him and the Magistrate. We expect, any day, to hear that Magistrate is coming down here to take up the worst case. In our absence, the Station Chief has ben behaving very badly and the Station is solid in its protests, and in its desire to have H. R. H. deposed. Among other things ,our Chief has been marrying people into Polygamy, right here on the Station. With one voice our people cry that they have never had polygamy on Umzumbe Mission Station before, and they won't tolerate it now. The Chief has been going to beer drinks also, and dancing all night in heathen kraals. With the help of the Government we hope to get these "strange gods" cast out "from amongst us," but it takes time to get such a difficult matter straightened out in this land. We do not know how soon we may hope for deliverance.

By vote of the Mission, Mr. Cowles was made official Supervisor of all the schools in his District. He did not have these Government aided schools in his charg before, and it means a decided doubling up of work for him. Including branches, he now has twenty-eight schools and churches under his care. This means a lot of horse-back riding, to say nothing of endless accounts, way into the night. "It's a great life, if you don't weaken," we used to hear you say in America. The same here: But we have so much to make us happy. These Revivals, the very nice spirit of our people and the friendship of our nine chiefs. One of the latter came to pay his respects one morning lately. Of course, Mr. Cowles was away! So Ruth and I had to do the honors. We spread a white cloth on the table for H. R. H. and his staff and we served them with bread and tea and jam, and a muffin apiece to close with. Then Raymond took them upstairs to see his birds and reptiles (dead ones, I mean.) Since this was the first time in their lives that these men had climbed stairs, it sent our young folks into convulsions to see the wild wobbling of their naked extremities. They took the steps two or three at a time, in their wild endeavor to go steadily to the top of those dizzy heights! It really was fun and this loyal chief was very appreciative, so we all had a very nice time, ourselves included. We ask for no greater opportunity than we have here, we ask for no more beautiful place to live in; we ask for no greater work. It is only this eternal tugging of the heart strings, this yearning over the children, ten thousand miles away, that is so hard to bear and that is the tragedy of Missions, the children's side, I mean.

Good night, dear, dear Friends, every one, and may the New Year bring to you each earth's greatest blessings, and may it bring us all nearer to God. "Nearer my God to thee, Nearer to thee." That is my prayer, as the shadows begin to lengthen.

Very lovingly yours,
AMY B. COWLES.

John Hummel, who is attending the Armstrong School of Business in Berkeley was here for the week-end to visit his mother and see the presentation of "Sherwood."
